SCOPE OF WORK: Church planting/discipleship, Clean water/water wells, Dental missions, Evangelism, Medical missions, Non-medical missions, Short-term service opportunities

REGION(S) SERVED: Africa, Asia, Europe, North America, South America

ORG. MISSION, PURPOSE AND/OR CONTACT INFO: Jewish Voice Ministries International exists to transform lives and see all Israel saved. Our mandate is to share the Good News that Jesus is the Messiah "to the Jew first," according to Romans 1:16 – because God loves the Jewish people and they remain an important part of His plans for the world. As we reach out to the "Lost Tribes of Israel" and other Jewish communities and their neighbors around the world, we start by showing them Jesus' love through meeting a practical need. Join our international volunteer team and serve in medical or non-medical roles! Our outreach programs mainly provide specialized and general medical care, including OB/GYN, eye surgeries, minor surgeries, dental care, and more. We also distribute LifeStraw water filtration devices to families and communities in need. In addition, we offer a vibrant children's program, a prayer tent where patients can hear the Good News and receive prayer for healing and other needs. One of the most impactful aspects of our work is partnering with local believers to offer follow-up visits to new believers and those seeking to learn more about Jesus. This creates opportunities for new indigenous congregations to be planted and grow. For over 25 years, we've served Jewish communities and their neighbors in Ethiopia, and for more than 10 years in Zimbabwe. Now, the Lord is opening doors in new regions such as Zambia, South Africa and Malawi. For more info on how you can join us in touching the heart of the Lord by reaching the "apple of His eye," —the Lost Tribes of Israel—and sharing the love of the Messiah in places where His message has yet to be heard - Contact us at outreach@jvmi.org or visit us at www.jewishvoice.org/go. Let's go and make a difference together!

SEAPC's healthcare platform has been a crucial part of two cornerstones of its organization: disciple making and leadership development. The organization has made a significant impact through its medical missions, including providing life-saving cardiac care in places like Tibet, where SEAPC continues to treat children with complex medical needs and provides aftercare for previous patients. SEAPC's volunteer medical teams, made up of healthcare professionals and support staff, conduct multiple missions annually, delivering both acute medical care and long-term support through partnerships with local ministries. The organization also focuses on empowering local communities through education and economic development initiatives, aiming to create sustainable solutions that will continue long after SEAPC's teams have left. The organization also provides assistance and training with autism specialists in countries like the United States, China, Brazil, and Ethiopia. Through these initiatives, SEAPC has worked in over many nations and serves more than 150,000 children daily. Today, SEAPC is poised to further expand its reach, with plans to directly serve 50 nations as part of the World Changers initiative to raise $15 million and mobilize 3,000 volunteers across the globe by the end of 2026. Under the leadership of Matt Geppert, the current president of SEAPC, the organization continues to grow and adapt to the evolving needs of the communities it serves. Through its hands-on approach and dedication to long-term impact, SEAPC remains committed to fostering positive change across the globe.
